About twelve pare up Mr. Tinker began dealing in bays with a small capital, and made, it is said, considerable money, when he leand a lot of ground at Calverton and erected a stock yard and a hotel in oppo-sition to the Calverton yards. The ground ration to use University was about $2,000 per par, which he assumed, and the improvements cost in the aggregate about $30,000. This was paid for, but in so doing, it is raid, he created other obligations at a heavy rate of interest, and extended amorting of $55,000 on the hotel and rada. The investments, it is stated, have not proved lucrative, and for some past those who had a knowledge of the manner in which the affairs of the first ware conducted, expected a crash at so late date. The liabilities, in addition to the $55,000 mortgage, which is held by Mr. Tinker's father-in-law, Mr. Jacob Sayder, a retired butcher, consists of the first paper, which is held principally butchers. The assets of the firm consist of the hotel and drove yards, and a house on Edilmore street near Fallon, which was purchased by Mr. Tinker for $10,000, it is said that the furn borrowed basily on their paper at high rates of discount and only into mat on the property was about $4,000 per Strike Among the Crispins.
CHICAGO, August 6.—Six hundred journeymen shoe makers of this city struck this morning for an advance of wages from nine to twiler dollars. They have refused the offer of the amployers to compromise on ten dollars and fifty cents per week. The employers declare that this is a liberal price and the best they can offer, and that if it is not accepted they can and will get their work done in the east at a less price. There are over 1,000 shoemskere of this class in Chicago, and those who have not already struck threaten to do so. STORM NOTES

PHILADELPHIA, August 6.—A terrific storm passed over the town of Phoenix-ville, Pa., last night, doing considerable damage. Robert Townsends and Edwin Roberts, of Philadelphia, were struck by lightning. The former was killed, and the other is not expected to recover. The village of Canton was visited by a heavy storm. The reservoir belonging to the Canton Water Company gave way, doing considerable damage. A large sash and blind factory was swept away, together with several barns and shops. Many dwelling houses were filled, with water, the inmates barely escaping with their lives. Most of the bridges over Towanda creek were carried away. tioned in connection with the Republication on momination for Congress in the First District. WASHINOTON, Augusto.—At the Cabinet session to-day, the Secretary of Was asid he had news from Rio Grande that several Mexican companies were being organized for the purpose of repelling the raids across the river by United States forces. Matters are, regarded as becoming serious. The raiders on this side of the river will be followed into Mexico, though the sincere wish of government is that there will be no occasion for any future crossing by our soldiers. The discussion of the matter was interesting, but it was not considered at the Cabinet meeting that any necessity exists at present for any additional orders to General Ord. THE REGATTA AT DETROIT.

DETROIT, August 6.—The regatts of the Detroit River Navy, which took place here to-day was very largely attended, The grand stand on shore and numerous steamers and water craft of every description in the river being crowded to their utmost capacity by admiring spectators. The weather was fair and the water comparatively smooth. All the races passed off successfully.

The four-coared race, one mile and return, was the first race called. The Detroit were the winners in 13:444, Centennial second. The Michigan crew of Detroit, who were aheads at the start, lost all chance of winning by turning the three quarter mile stakebent and stopped pulling.

The next race, between a four-coared shell of the Zephyra in 15:07. A few seconds after the finish the Zephyrs' shell was run down by the steam yacht Scotia and Mesers Clegg and McGregor thrown into the water, but were soon rescued and the shell got out uninjured.

In the six-coared shell race the Excelsior came in shead; time 12:51; Detroit second; time 13:40.

The single scull race, next on the programme, was between W. D. Wells, fr, and F. D. Standish, both of the Excelsion Club of Detroit, and was won by the former in fifteen minutes.

The original charter of Connecticut, which on the seizure of the colonial gov-ernment by Sir Edmund Andros two hundred years ago last October, was con-cealed in the famous Charter Oak, is at present in the Secretary of State's office but will be removed to the new Capito but will be removed to the new Capitol building on the transfer of the Secretary's office. It is to be newly framed, though it is not probable that the parchment will be renovated in any way, as that would destroy the tinge of antiquity about it. It is written in handsome, really an elegant hand, the old Eoglish characters being used, but in some places the ink has faded or has been discolored by the dust of see, making the perusal dif-

used, but in some places the link has faded or has been discolored by the dust of age, making the perusal difficult if not impossible at times. In the right hand upper corner is a pen and link sketch of Charles the Second, which, according to the verdict of men who have seen approved likenesses of that monarch is accurate. The interest in this noted document entitles it to the utmost care and protection. In the new Capitol building it should be given a prominent place, allowing the people to see and think about it. At present not one of a thousand knows even of its existence. It would also be appropriate for the charter box, the casket that contained one of the most precious of political jewels, now at the Historial Rooms, to be transferred to the state Capitol and deposited there permanently with the original charter.—Hartford Evening Post. A nation that has departed from this rule must lose its position unless it re-turns to specie payment as soon as prac-ticable. The close of the war ended the ticable. The close of the war ended the necessity for extravagrat expenditure. A speedy reaction set in and the difference between gold and paper was considerably reduced, but there came a time when the process of closing the gap became more difficult, for this reason: We have nearly seven hondred millions of paper circulation and only about a hundred and sixty millions specie in Treasury and the stumpt to reduce the volume of paper currency too suddenly would break down the industrial interests of the country. hational pigeon shooting match to day, between Captain Bogardus and Aulrey Conventry, Sogardus won by one bird.

The score stood Bogardus 79, Coventry 78. The match was for one thousand pounds aside, each to shoot at one hundred birds. The betting was slightly in favor of Bogardus before the match. The weather was fine and the wind very light. For the first twenty five, birds both men shot badly, Bogardus killing 17, and Coventry 16. The shooting now began to improve and at the end of the second twenty-five, the score was thirty-seven each. Bogardus had hard luck, three of his birds falling dead just beyond the line. At his 50th shot Bogardus missed and Coventry led. Bogardus missed his 59th; at the end of the third 25 birds, Coventry had killed 59 and Bogardus 57. his 59th; at the end of the third 25 birds, Coventry had killed 59 and Bogardus 57. Coventry missed his 76th bird, but Bo-gardus lost his 82d. Coventry then led until the 89th, when the scores were again even. Bogardus missed his 91st bird and Coventry once more led, but missed his 96th and 97th birds, while Bo-carting led, no more, ending, the fourth gardus lost no more ending the fourth 25 birds by a score of 22 to Coventry's 20. The excitement was intense during the last 25 birds, for it was not till the
